You can use this form to register a name change for your child if their birth is registered in New Zealand and they are aged under 2.

Before you apply

Guidelines for your child's new name

You can change all or part of your child's name. Your child's new name has to consist of 1 surname and 1 or more other names. If you have religious, philosophical or cultural reasons for your child to have only one name, you need to include a letter of explanation with your application.

Your child's new name might not be accepted if it's:

- offensive
- longer than 70 characters, including spaces
- an official title or rank, or resembles one (for example, Justice, King, Prince, Princess, Royal)
- spelled with numbers or symbols (for example, V8).

Timeframe

To view our current timeframes for a name change, go to: govt.nz/bdmtimeframes.

If you have requested a certificate showing your child's new name, allow extra time for postage.

If this is your child's second name change

If the child's name has been changed previously then you must give special reasons as to why it is appropriate to change their name again. If this is the case explain the special reasons on page 4 of this form.

True statements

If you make, or cause to be made, any false statement or declaration you will be liable, on conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 5 years.

All legal guardians must sign

All of your child's guardians must sign this form.

The child's father and mother are usually joint guardians

The father and the mother of a child are guardians jointly of the child unless the child's mother is the sole guardian of the child. If the child is legally adopted, the adoptive parents are guardians of the child through the adoption.

Father as guardian

The mother and father are both guardians if they jointly registered the birth of the child on or after 1 July 2005 on SmartStart or by completing and signing the Notification of birth for registration form (BDM27).

Appointment of 1 or more additional guardians

An additional guardian is:

- A testamentary guardian of the child appointed by the deceased parent under section 26(2) of the Care of Children Act 2004 or section 7(2) of the Guardianship Act 1968.
- All Court appointed/approved guardians. A certified copy of the Court appointment as a guardian should be attached to this declaration.

A guardian may act alone

In the below circumstances a guardian may act alone.

- The other guardian(s) is/are dead, unknown, missing (note that a guardian is not missing if others know of their whereabouts but they refuse to tell you), of unsound mind or unable to act because of a medical condition.
- Family Court approval is obtained. Appropriate evidence must be attached to this declaration. Note that this is not a Parenting or Protection order.

If the mother is the sole guardian

When a child is conceived on or after 1 July 2005, the child's mother is the sole guardian of the child if the mother was not:

- married to, nor in a civil union with, the father of the child at any time during the period beginning with the conception of the child and ending with the birth of the child
- living with the father of the child as a de facto partner at any time during that period.

If the child is born as a result of an assisted reproduction procedure (such as donor insemination) to a mother acting alone, and the donor is not the mother's partner (i.e. not in a marriage, civil union or de facto relationship), and the donor does not become the mother's partner between conception and notification of the birth for registration, then the mother is the sole guardian.

Other parent

If the child was born as a result of an assisted human reproduction procedure (such as artificial insemination), and the mother was living in a marriage, civil union or de facto relationship with a person who had consented to her undergoing the procedure, and that person's name is recorded on the child's birth registration, then that person must also sign this declaration.
